Intro	One day your job might not exist	Bank teller job on job search – no jobs found
	The next day, a job that doesn't exist yet, might be yours.	Autonomous Vehicle Operator job search
	The question isn't whether work will change...	Already kind of done – city scape and girl looking Student standing still while the world moves fast around them. Examples: • City moving fast (time-lapse) • Screens showing AI, robotics, renewable energy • News headlines flashing
	It's whether you'll see it coming.	Student looks up as: • warning indicators appear • graphs shift • conveyor belt of jobs moving This ties to the game theme of awareness .
	Global forces are reshaping work everywhere.	Quick global montage: • factories • tech labs • wind farms • logistics warehouses Could also show world map with industries lighting up .
	It's easy to think: "That's nothing to do with me."	Student scrolling phone. Headlines appear: • AI • robotics • automation Student shrugs.
	But it is.	Phone screen changes to: "Jobs changing in YOUR industry" Camera zooms into student reaction.
	Because when the world changes... Work changes –	Visual Split screen transformation: Left side → old workplace Right side → new workplace

		Examples:
	and that means your way of life..
	The work doesn't disappear.	Jobs fade but don't vanish.
	It moves.	Jobs moving along a conveyor belt
	And the skills that matter move with it.	Icons appearing: • communication • digital skills • problem solving • adaptability These could glow briefly.
	So What are you going to do about that?	Visual Student looking forward. Three paths appear.
	Ignore it?	Path fades.
	Adapt?	Path grows slightly.
	or Get in front of it?	Third path lights up.
	This game puts you in the front seat.	Camera shifts to driver POV of a car. Dashboard lights up. Your hands on steering wheel.
	Because the goal isn't just getting a job,	Student looking at job search results.
	its having choices.	Student making choices
	Youre in the front seat	Camera moves into driver's seat.
	– let's go	Engine rev. Screen transition to: Impactful Technology – Intel Screen
